Throughout history, the speech has been one of the most powerful forms of communication. Technological, social and economic changes have enhanced that power. As digital communication has increased, speeches have had to become more authentic and honest.

This online course gives you the essential principles of the art and craft of speechwriting. After first defining why speeches matter, the course looks at the three golden principles of speechwriting, before moving on to how to make the content memorable and engaging. It then focuses on honing the participants writing and editing skills with specific exercises on hooking your audience and crafting media sound bites and quotes. Finally, it examines how to deliver a speech with confidence and conviction.

□□□□

At the end of this course, participants should be able to:

- Identify the elements of a good speech as well as the 3 golden principles;
- Apply principles of effective writing;
- Manage the audience's attention span throughout the speech;
- Get your message across to the media and on social media;
- Appraise the principles of effective delivery and recognise the importance of non-verbal communication.
