CONTEXTE

The Welcoming Industry Program is an initiative of the Fiep System, implemented by Sesi Paraná, that connects social inclusion with industrial competitiveness through the integration of migrants and refugees into the formal labor market.

Launched in June 2024, the program responds to two structural challenges: the shortage of qualified labor in Paraná's industrial sector and the need for coordinated responses to increasing migratory flows, as Paraná is one of the main destinations for relocated migrants in Brazil.

The initiative operates through a multi-stakeholder approach, engaging international organizations, civil society, and industry to promote inclusive workforce integration and sustainable economic development.

The program aligns with global migration and inclusion agendas, contributing to decent work, reduced inequalities, and inclusive economic growth.

OBJECTIFS DU COURS

The initiative aims to:

- Promote the integration of migrants and refugees into the formal labor market;
- Support industries in developing inclusive and diverse work environments;
- Address labor shortages through inclusive workforce strategies;
- Strengthen collaboration between industry, government, and international organizations;
- Foster social inclusion aligned with economic development.

The initiative contributes to SDGs 8, 10, and 17, particularly in advancing decent work, reducing inequalities, and strengthening partnerships.

CONTENU ET STRUCTURE

The program is structured around four main pillars:

- Job matching: Connecting migrants with employment opportunities in industry;
- Industry preparation: Awareness sessions and intercultural recruitment training for HR teams;
- Migrant training: Portuguese language courses (SESI) and professional qualification (SENAI);

- Network strengthening: Engagement with partners and integration into platforms such as Emprega Indústria (IEL).

The structure integrates social inclusion with workforce development in a coordinated and scalable model.
