UNITAR and the Directorate of Climate Change (DoCC), an affiliated institution of the Ministry of Environment, Urbanization and Climate Change, Republic of Türkiye conducted an online capacity-building session “Introduction to the Prosperity Blueprint: Project Proposal Development for DoCC members.

The “Introduction to the Prosperity Blueprint: Project Proposal Development” training session provided participants with a practical and structured approach to developing impactful project proposals. The session was interactive in nature, covering essential components such as prewriting preparation, information organization, and concise writing techniques aligned with donor expectations.

Participants engaged in meaningful discussions and exercises that were designed to build confidence and competence in proposal writing. Key takeaways included understanding how to structure a proposal, identify and align project objectives with institutional mandates, and communicate effectively to existing and potential partners.
