No coding experience or background knowledge of the SDG's required

Understanding of the SDG's, a new data science skillset, a data science portfolio

Understanding of the SDG's, a new data science skillset, a data science portfolio

Asynchronous pre-recorded videos, weekly due dates for code submitted to Github Classroom, Final Project

The intent of the content is to give a friendly, guided, engaging introduction to coding in R through the lens of SDG data. The short time period allows participants to get a feel for the coding language and content which will hopefully inspire them to pursue data science further
