The conflict series is an open, self-paced course meant to provide an introduction to conflict studies and more advanced courses in conflictology.

□□□□

The third chapter of the conflict series explores how to bring conflicts to peace. The goal of this chapter is to give the learner a basic understanding of theories about conflict resolution, and a set of methods to accomplish this.

□□□□

At the end of the course, participants will be able to:

- Illustrate the four main theories of transition from conflict to peace.
- Describe the three main methods used to manage violent conflict: negotiation, mediation and humanitarian negotiation.

□□□□□

The course is composed of seven sections:

- Section 1: From conflict to peace.
- Section 2: Link to conflict analysis.
- Section 3: Theories of transition from conflict to peace.
- Section 4: Conflict Negotiation.
- Section 5: Conflict Mediation.
- Section 6: Humanitarian Negotiation.
- Section 7: UN Conflict Resolution.

The average work time is estimated at 4 hours.

□□

The course is a self-guided, self-paced, web-based course that is on-going and can be accessed at any time. The material is presented in an interactive visual and text format with web-based reference resources. Multiple choice quizzes at the end of each lesson serve a dual function of assessing and evaluating the students’ understanding and retention and provide a further didactic function by reviewing the content.

At the successful completion of the course participants will be awarded with a badge.

□□□□

Primary audience: The course is designed for anyone who has an interest and curiosity in conflict studies.

Secondary audience: The course is geared towards anyone who wishes to garner a baggage of basic knowledge to then pursue more advanced courses in conflictology, notably UNITAR's Master degree in Conflict, Peace and Security.
