Over two days, participants will engage in expert presentations, interactive discussions, case studies, and peer-to-peer knowledge exchange focused on:
- Airport and port emergency preparedness
- Emergency operations coordination and governance
- Humanitarian logistics and supply chain resilience
- Crisis communications and public information management
- Operational continuity and recovery planning
- Community engagement and multi-sector collaboration
- Technology, innovation, and early warning systems
- Regional cooperation and lessons learned from recent emergencies

The seminar will bring together airport authorities, emergency management professionals, government representatives, humanitarian organizations, academia, and private sector leaders to share operational experiences, best practices, and practical tools that strengthen resilience across Latin America and the Caribbean.

This year's seminar is proudly delivered in collaboration with:
• AERODOM
• CIFAL República Dominicana / Liga Municipal Dominicana (LMD)
• CIFAL Mérida / ASUR
• CIFAL Atlanta
• VINCI Airports
• Airports Council International – Latin America & Caribbean (ACI-LAC)
• Outreach Aid to the Americas (OAA)
• Florida International University (FIU)
• Universal Aviation
• FedEx
